With 2 years of experience as a frontend developer, I partially led and contributed to the development and support of several applications, improving user experience, increasing system efficiency, and strengthening client relationships. Additionally, I ensured the platform's availability on various devices, guaranteeing its technical quality.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

ItGlobers

Frontend Mid Developer

Colombia

January 2023 – Present

As a frontend developer, I partially led a team in developing new features and resolving issues in our main platform. During my time on the project, I created several key features that significantly improved user experience and increased system efficiency.

I also worked with the client to address their concerns and resolve any questions they had about our platform. This direct interaction with the client allowed me to better understand their needs and adapt our solutions to meet them.

I actively participated in the creation of an MVP for the company, highlighting the key features of our platform and demonstrating its value to potential clients. My contribution to the development of the MVP was essential in generating interest and securing new business for the company.

Additionally, I utilized my technical skills to develop high-quality APK and IPA files, ensuring the platform's availability across multiple devices and operating systems. My ability to partially lead a team, effectively interact with clients, and contribute to the technical development of the project has allowed me to play an integral role in the ongoing success of our platform.

Basic Classes in JavaScript, React, and Redux

Remoto

October 2022 – December 2022

I provided training over the course of two months on the fundamental concepts of JavaScript, React, Redux, Node.js, and Express, providing participants with a solid understanding of these key technologies. Through both practical and theoretical sessions, I guided students in developing interactive web applications, managing application state efficiently, and building robust APIs, ensuring they acquired the necessary skills to tackle real-world frontend and backend development projects.
